

NEGRO TROOPS ARE DISMISSED

Whole Battalion Which Created
Disturbance in Texas Leaves
Army in Disgrace

PRESIDENT ACTS PROMPTLY

Directs That General Garlington's
Recommendations Be Complied With.

WASHINGTON, November 6.—Unprecedented in the history of the army of the United States is the action of the President, just announced, in discharging in disgrace from that army an entire battalion of colored troops because of their failure to disclose the identity of some of their number who had been guilty of violence and murder.

As an evidence, however, of his intention to be fair to the colored troops, the President has accompanied this action by a order which may amount to the court-martial of a white army officer of high grade, who was charged with having cast slurs upon the colored troops. The story of both actions is told in the following official correspondence made public today by the military secretary.

"The report of an investigation made by Brigadier-General E. A. Garlington, Inspector-General of the army, relative to the riotous disturbance which occurred at Brownsville, Texas, on the night of August 13, 1906, and that resulted in the death of one and the wounding of another citizen of that city, has been considered and acted upon by the President. Following are his instructions with regard to the matter:

"The White House.

"Washington, D. C., Nov. 6, 1906.

"The Secretary of War.

"I have read the General Garlington's report, dated October 24, submitted to me by you. I direct that the recommendations of General Garlington be complied with, and that at the same time the concluding portion of his report be published with our sanction as giving the reasons for the action.

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

Many Suffer Innocently

"Following is the concluding portion of General Garlington's report, which embodies the recommendations that, by direction of the President, will be carried into effect immediately by the War Department:

"I recommend that orders be issued as soon as practicable, discharging, without honor, every man in Companies B, C and D, of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, serving at Fort Brown, Texas, on the night of August 13, 1906, and forever barring them from re-enlisting in the army or navy of the United States, as well as from employment in any civil capacity under the government. In making this recommendation, I recognize the fact that a number of men who have no direct knowledge as to the identity of the men of the Twenty-fifth Infantry who actually fired the shots on the night of 13th of August, 1906, will incur this extreme penalty.

"It has been established by careful investigation, however, reasonable doubt, that the firing into the houses of the citizens of Brownsville, while the inhabitants thereof were pursuing their peaceful vocations, or sleeping, and by which one citizen was killed and the child of a police officer seriously wounded that he lost an arm, was done by enlisted men of Twenty-fifth Infantry, belonging to the battalion stationed at Fort Brown. After one opportunity and notice, the enlisted men of the Twenty-fifth Infantry have failed to tell all that it is reasonable to believe they know concerning the shooting. If they had done so, it would have been possible to relate all the circumstances, mistakes, preliminary to the trouble, it is extremely probably that a clue sufficiently definite to lead to results would have been disclosed.

Resisting Detection.

"They appear to stand together in a determination to resist the detection of the guilty; therefore, they should stand together when the penalty falls. A forceful lesson should be given to the army at large, and especially to the non-commissioned officers, that their duty does not cease upon the drill grounds, with the calling of the company rolls, making check inspections and other duty of normal character; but that their responsibility of office accompany them everywhere and at all times; that it is their duty to become thoroughly acquainted with the individual members of their respective units, to know their characteristics, to be able at all times to gauge their temper; in order to discover the beginning of discontent or of mutinous intentions, and to anticipate organized acts of disorder; that they must notify their officers at once of any such conditions; moreover, the people of the United States, wherever they live, must feel assured that the men wearing the uniform of the army are their protectors, and not midnight assassins or riotous disturbers of the peace of the community in which they may be stationed.

"On October 5, 1906, a squadron of the Ninth Cavalry, an organization of colored troops, reported at Fort Sheridan, near Chicago, Ill., under orders from the War Department assigning them to duty there. Upon their arrival in this country I was again stricken with malaria, but this time in a worse form—the tropical malaria. Remembering the merits of your remedy, I immediately sent for some. Again it proved to me that for malaria it was far superior to any physician's treatment.

"This alleged statement by Colonel Pitcher, having been brought to the attention of the President, the following communication with regard to it was sent to the War Department by Secretary Loeb:

"The President directs that an immediate report be called for from Colonel Pitcher to know whether or not he is correctly quoted in the enclosed clipping, and if he is correctly quoted, the President directs that proceedings be taken against him for such punishment as can be inflicted. The President thinks that such conduct is but little better than that of the offending negro troops themselves.

CHASE BANK ROBBERS

MORE THAN FORTY MILES

Daring Men Who Rifled Ladd

Coffers Force Farmers to Furnish Horses.

OTTAWA, Ill., November 6.—The two robbers who secured $7,000 from the Farmers and Miners Bank at Ladd made their escape last night after an exciting chase of over forty miles, and after numerous fights with farmers who attempted to intercept them. After rifling the Ladd bank, the robbers drove to Peru, and at the point of a revolver compelled a liverman to furnish a buggy and fresh horses. They passed through La Salle, and then the pursuit began. The robbers drove through eight county townships, police armed with rifles in close pursuit. Farmers were compelled to furnish the robbers with fresh horses. In Wallace township there was a lively exchange of shots, but the robbers took to the cornfields to secure a refuge, and escaped to Sheridan, where they abandoned horses, buggy and overcoats and caught a train, presumably for Chicago.

CRIDDLER APPOINTED.

Former Third Assistant Secretary

To Be Jamestown Commissioner.

PARIS, November 6.—Charles E. Kohlman, ex-commissioner of the Jamestown Exposition, has designated Thomas W. Cridler, Third Assistant Secretary of State, and who was a commissioner of the United States to the Paris Exposition, to be commissioner of the Jamestown Exposition for England and France.

Mr. Kohlman is now at Marseilles, arranging to transfer some of the Colonial exhibits from the exposition there to Jamestown.

WEALTHY CLUBMAN SENT TO

PENITENTIARY FOR SIX YEARS

AUGUSTA, GA., November 6.—Thomas W. Alexander, formerly a wealthy cotton factor and prominent club man, who was arrested at Pittsburg September 15th, after having fled from this city July 5th, leaving debts amounting to $30,000, today pleaded guilty to an indictment charging embezzlement, and was sentenced to six years' imprisonment.

The Albemarle County Exhibit.

To the Farmers of Albemarle County:

As the time for housing corn is now at hand, I take this opportunity to ask for your co-operation in making a creditable display of Albemarle's products and resources at the Jamestown Exposition by selecting, while shucking, a few nice ears of your corn to contribute to the exhibit. I suggest that half a bushel, or even a peck, of ears of corn should be packed tightly in a box, wadded up with paper if necessary, and sent to me at Crozet, or if more convenient, may be left addressed to me at the store of Mr. J. H. Linney, on Main Street, Charlottesville, who will care for them. Samples of wheat, oats or rye, are also solicited, about enough of each as will fill such a package as a shot bag. All such contributions should be packed together in one box with the corn. By applying to me I will send tags on which names of varieties of samples should be written. All such contributions will be shown under producers' name, and he will get any credit or award made.

These contributions should be sent in during the coming month, so that they may be stored together, properly labeled, etc., for the winter. This is our opportunity to advertise our county, our lands and ourselves. We can make the best exhibit of any county by hearty co-operation, and by this means attract home-seekers to Albemarle.

CAST FIRST VOTE IN ART CONTEST

Honor Goes to Pupil of Westminster School, With Central Scholars Next.

COMPETITION IS EXTENDED

Handsome Set of Statuary Will Be Offered to Schools of Henrico County.

To Hardy People, of the Westminster School, belongs the honor of casting the first vote in the great contest for school-room decoration. The pupils of the Central School were close upon him, however, bringing a good-sized package of votes to the office of Miss Gertrude L. Brinkhaus, director of the contest, Room No. 8, Times Building. The boys also carried with them a strong determination to win. The Springfield School came next with evidence in the way of coupons that the students of that school are also in the race.

The Richmond High School, by casting a few votes, has placed itself upon the list of candidates for some of the productions of masterpieces of sculpture. The children of the city are keeping Miss Brinkhaus busy in her office answering questions. They are surprised and delighted with the number of pieces to be given to the schools and their sizes. "All those to one school?" is their breathless exclamation.

All Interested.

Miss Brinkhaus wishes to thank the "crowd-up" for their kindness in casting upon her and expressing their appreciation of the movement for beautifying the schools, to which The Times-Dispatch is giving its aid. She hopes many more will come to talk over the contest with her. Miss Brinkhaus will be found in her office from 3 o'clock until 6 every day and all day Saturdays. She is in and out during the other hours, but will be glad to be at her office any morning by appointment.

While conducting her work in Chicago, Miss Brinkhaus had the good fortune to persuade Lorado Taft, Chicago's most distinguished sculptor, to write a series of "Talks on Sculpture." "Write them so they will be instructive and refreshing not only for the children, but also for the grown-ups," was what Miss Brinkhaus said to Mr. Taft in regard to the articles. That Mr. Taft succeeded in doing this was attested by the many favorable comments made upon his writings. By permission of the Chicago Record-Herald a number of these articles will be printed in this paper, the first appearing in next Sunday's issue. The same issue will contain a full list of the casts to be given to the schools of Richmond and Manchester, and a list of the schools entered in the contest, with the number of votes cast for each.

Henrico in It.

The management of The Times-Dispatch has been approached by the school officials of Henrico county to extend the competition to embrace their schools, and as a result, have decided to offer a handsome set of statuary to be competed for solely by the pupils of the schools in Henrico county.

An announcement of the pieces comprising this collection will be made in next Sunday's issue of The Times-Dispatch.

The principals of all the colored schools have also made a request of a similar nature, which is under consideration, and the decision will be announced at the earliest possible moment.

Appeal From Manchester.

The following appeal to the readers of The Times-Dispatch was issued yesterday from Manchester:

"We most earnestly solicit your votes for the Manchester public schools in the contest for school-room decoration now being given by the Richmond Times-Dispatch. I venture to make the statement that no Richmond school needs an art collection to assist in beautifying the public environment and to make the hours in the classroom more pleasant and profitable, as do our schools.

"Signs of your interest, subscribers, by sending us coupons to secure a set of these casts, and we will appreciate it deeply.

(Signed)

G. CARRINGTON MOSELEY,

Principal."

TAKE HIGH RANK.

High School Graduates Stand Well in the Colleges.

Commencement W. Fred Richardson did not have an opportunity on Monday night to present in the Council his joint resolution providing for a special committee to inquire into the efficiency of the public schools of the city. The resolution will be offered Thursday evening, however, but just what disposition will be made of it cannot now be stated. As stated heretofore, the position taken by Mr. Richardson is not one of criticism of those in authority. He declares that he simply desires the proposed committee to confer with the heads of the school system to see what can be done to meet what he believes to be an urgent demand for reform.

In publishing a summary of a conversation with Mr. Richardson relative to his resolution, The Times-Dispatch stated that the Councilman cited the cases of three children who had failed in mathematics were high school pupils, which as a matter of fact those referred to by Mr. Richardson were children in the lower grades.

It is stated by well known educators that graduates of the Richmond High School are well prepared to enter the leading colleges, and even the university. Among the well-known educators who have commended the preparatory work of the High School are President Alderman of the University of Virginia; President Smith, of the Randolph-Macon system, and President F. W. Boatwright, of Richmond College. Generally, it is stated that Richmond High School graduates take high rank at other institutions.

Friend of Sick Women

Strange, that some sick women still hold off, from trying a medicine that half a century of use has proven of exceptional value in the treatment of female disease!

Strange that EVERY sick woman who has heard of it—Wine of Cardui—should not fly to the nearest drug-store and try a bottle.

So, in order that you, who doubt, shall doubt no longer, but be convinced by the testimony of a sister woman,—Mrs. Donaldson, the well-known Salvation Army worker,—a friend to all sick women, the following unsolicited letter from her is published, for you to read and ponder:—

Jonesboro, Ark., July 13, 1906.

For about eight years I have been a walking advertisement for Wine of Cardui. In 1895 and 1896 I suffered much with female trouble and irregularity. My limbs would swell until great ridges would form, out over my shoes. I was weak, with scarcely energy enough to do housework at all.

Having read much of the merits of Wine of Cardui for female complaint, I decided to try it and after taking 2 bottles was never troubled again.

Two years ago, I gave birth to an 8½ pound baby girl and was only in labor half an hour.

MRS. J. DONALDSON,
Captain Salvation Army,
Jonesboro, Ark.

This spring I gave birth to a 10 pound boy; was only in labor half an hour. I took Cardui during pregnancy both times, and am sure I owe my easy time to it. It is a real God-send to suffering women.

During change of life, four years ago, my mother, Mrs. G. W. Wadsworth, nearly died. She had from 16 to 24 cramping or sinking spells during a day and night, and many times we laid her down for dead. At last I persuaded her to take Wine of Cardui and Thedford's Black-Draught, which cured her.

In DeKalb, Ill., when I was in charge of the Army work there a young woman had taken cold and was irregular for six months. I recommended Cardui and after taking 3 bottles, she was entirely well. (See Miss Upson's letter below).

These are only a few instances where your medicine has been a real God-send to sick women. I am continually recommending it to others.

Praying God to abundantly bless you,

I remain,

Mrs. J. Donaldson.

Mamma Was Almost Crazy.

MISS HAZEL UPSON,
DeKalb, Ill.

DeKalb, Ill., Jan. 2, 1906.

I am very much pleased to sit down and write you how much I thank God and you, for Wine of Cardui. It saved my life, and I will never be through praising God for it. I was very sick with fever and never got over it, just right. I was weak and hardly able to get up, and for six months I was in bad shape. I was pale and white, and the best doctor in DeKalb gave me up and said I would not get well. Mamma was almost crazy to think of it. At last on the advice of a lady friend, (Mrs. J. Donaldson, see letter above) Mamma gave me Wine of Cardui and after I had taken three bottles, I came around and began to get well right off. Now I am feeling well and getting fat. Mamma and I are so thankful for Cardui.
